FOREWORD

HERE within these pages of the ACORN of 1933, we have attempted to gather and to hold through the years the reflection and spirit of the life of a Blackstone Girl. In our own Dutch Garden we have pictured and recorded her activities and ideals, her dreams and ambitions, with simplicity and sincerity in the steady way of the Dutch. So to you, our Blackstone Girl, we present this volume of the ACORN and give to it the task of keeping alive your lovely memories of our college days at Blackstone.

DEDICATION

BECAUSE of her affectionate interest and sympathetic understanding of each student problem, because of her splendid companionship in work and play, and because she is truly a part of the college to which she has endared herself, we dedicate this,

ALMA MATER

I.

*Oh dear Blackstone, Alma Mater,
We thy daughters come to thee,
Seeking friends that make us nobler,
Seeking truth that makes us free,
Seeking courage, faith and wisdom,
And the strength to triumph wrong,
Hear, oh, hear us, loving mother,
As we lift to thee our song.*

CHORUS

*Guide, oh guide us, mother dear,
May we ever feel thee near,
May thy daughters live and love
And grow forever, mother dear,
Oh—Oh Blackstone, here's to thee,
Here's to truth that makes us free,
Here's to fame and praise and honor,
And a student's love for thee.*

II.

*Hail—oh Blackstone, Alma Mater,
We with grateful hearts do sing,
For we called and thou didst answer,
Did thy treasures to us bring,
Did unfold to us the mysteries,
Both of books and friendships true,
Now thy daughters answer gladly,
Here's our love, Blackstone, to you.*

III.

*Oh—Oh Blackstone, Alma Mater,
As we sing our parting lay,
Life's work calls, we dare not linger,
Though with thee, we fain would stay,
Parting comes, but we'll remember
These our happy college days,
And be true to thee, dear mother,
Guide us with thy love, we pray.*

THE COLLEGE

"The College—scene of friendships found and won."

"The Gables, dearer far to me Than many stately mansions be."

*"These scenes I've loved; thy trees and nooks
Have taught me more than many books."*

"In thy halls have I learned thy art, Gained ideals that can ne'er depart."

ALICIA WINN

*The earliest crimson rays of the rising sun
Spread their glow over the eastern sky;
Lovely Venus slowly faded
As the dawning light pervaded the air.
Night was done; and as I stood on the hill-top
And gloried in God's greeting to the world,
I suddenly saw beyond the great horizon;
Saw Life's path unroll for a little way,
Till it became fainter and fainter,
And the outlines were no longer clear.
Startled, I paused and pondered,
For now I knew what the dawning meant.
I was at the dawning of a day I knew nothing of;
Yet I was not afraid, for behind me was
Not a lonely night, but a time
That I had spent girding myself for this dawn,
A starry night, and every star helping me onward;
A gay and joyful night, enchanting me—
Two years of happy school life, friendship, and trust,
In the dearest place the sun's beams ever warmed!*

HIGH SCHOOL

A Greeting

*I gazed into my cup of life and tried
To see what lay within—if pain or grace,
And on the limpid surface gleamed a face—
My own sad face, alone, and nought beside.
And while I looked I saw the etching tide
Of loneliness flood high, and leave its trace
Of sorrow in the eyes that searched all space
For just one friend;—I turned away and sighed.*

*Then you came by and smiled and greeted me,
A little grain of greeting, yet it made
So many ripples that I scarce could see
The loneliness that in those eyes had played.
And there in answer to my silent plea
Your loving face has lingered and has stayed.*

To our dear old Blackstone we sing!
For her honor what wouldn't we do?
Loyally her praises will ring
As we cheer for our classmates, too.
Loyal girls from Blackstone are we
With a love that fadeth never.
We pledge our allegiance to thee,
Oh, Blackstone once! Oh, Blackstone twice!
Our school forever!

“The Cradle Song”

PRESENTED

DECEMBER 10, 1932

BY

Dramatic Club

*“My old, old pain is in my heart tonight;
Fain would I leave the world and be a nun,
Escape from all temptations and have done
With constant longing for an unknown light.
Within a convent I should find the height
Of purity and peace, and only one
Straight way to follow, and no wrongs to shun—
My soul well guided by a higher might.
Then would I cease my longing for the power
To stir all hearts with beauty finely made
By my own hands, for beauty there would be
As pure and simple as a God-made flower,
And beauty that on earth must some day fade
Would find therein its immortality.”*

H U M O R

Hi-Lites for Half a Year

MATTIE ELLYSON mailing her letters in the laundry box and starting a new style among the unwitting freshmen (what a surprise for the laundryman!) . . . One of the Wade sisters wading through the library in evening dress, or pajamas in other words (just another freshman!) . . . Kitty Anderson doing a "swan" (?) dive from the street up to the sidewalk. . . . And speaking of funny things we'll mention Alma Peers in the dining hall ('nuff said for those who know!) . . . A certain member of the faculty, Miss Proctor, and our own dear Skiddy chasing butterflies! . . . Mary Virginia Jett hunting through the English dictionary for a Latin word (O. K. Mr. Webster!) . . . Miss Heflin in the canteen breathlessly requesting "a pie (?), any kind of pie, just a pie," and munching dreamily on same (ain't it grand?). . . . Ye worthy "rats" finding nothing better to do for two or three days than run around serving as hatracks for various lampshades (of diverse shapes, sizes, and colors), signs, and numerous other queer looking, colorful appendages. . . . Doris Franklin being accused in "rat-court" of peeping over the transoms (shame on you, Frankie!) . . . The studes of old B. C. G. get cooled off by rainbow-colored slabs of ice cream (there must be a Santa Claus . . . or is it just a trustees' meeting? . . . may there be many more of them!) . . . Phil Johnson tobogganing blissfully under the bed on the rug, cracking her cranium while carefully (?) stumbling over Miss Bennett's trunk, tumbling over backwards in a chair and just falling here and there everywhere in general (must be that fall weather we were having once). . . . Miss Mims, who likes (?) to sit in the nice soft mud, insisting that what this world needs is gentler horses (ride 'em cowboy! whoops!) . . . Horses, horses everywhere. . . . Like knights in the days of yore; bouncing, trotting, galloping (By Jove, and are we sore). . . . The faculty gets athletic and goes in for gym in a big way (what! faculty gym classes! and how!) . . . The fair maidens of Blackstone timidly facing the li'l birdie in the camera for annual pictures (such popularity for our feathered friend!) . . . We have exams!!!! (We neither gave nor received help. . . . It looks like it, doesn't it?) . . . "Adios," "au revoir," or what have you! (we go home for Thanksgiving vacation.) . . . W-e c-o-m-e b-a-c-k f-e-e-l-i-n-g v-e-r-y p-e-p-p-y. . . . Dot Oliver, all a-flutter with excitement, dashing wildly out into the dark, dismal corridor to summon a council girl, and dragging the bewildered Pat Coleman to the window, where Dot points out ecstatically to those cute little white rabbits on the campus. . . . Pat, observing only an innocent horse with white feet, wondered if she should give Dot some paper dolls to cut out. . . . Crashing sounds in the dining room as Gin Lambdin coaxes a bowl of jelly to do a flip on the table (and was Gin's face red?) . . . The college sororities doing their stuff, rushees (no, no kin to Moses and the bull rushes), bids, pledges, and what-not running around in white raiment and looking important . . . 'Twas the night 'fore vacation and all thru the school not a creature was sleeping nor keeping a rule. . . . XMAS? . . . HOME AND SANTA CLAUS!!! . . .

Gigglers

Riggs: "Irma Simpson almost drowned last night."

Judson: "She did, how?"

Riggs: "The pillow slipped, the bed spread, and she fell in the spring."

* * * * *

Gertie Draper: "Do you like hamburger balls?"

Frances McCraw: "I don't think I ever attended one."

* * * * *

Miss Read: "What portion of the chicken will you have, Anne?"

Anne Kellam: "I'll have some meat, please."

* * * * *

Peggy MacGowan: "I have a splinter in my finger."

Allien Perry: "Been scratching your head?"

* * * * *

Miss Alice Reed (quite seriously): "All of us, even at B. C. G. are subject to the law of gravity."

Phil Johnson: "Yeah! We're all held down."

* * * * *

Miss Bennett: "When I was in China, I saw a woman hanging in a tree."

Sis Wetherill: "Shanghai?"

Miss Bennett: "Oh, 'bout seven feet!"

* * * * *

Mr. Booker: "I've got a freak over on my farm. It's a two-legged calf."

Mr. Coleman: "I know it. He was over to call on my daughter last night."

* * * * *

(Just ask Miss Kapp.) Mary and Ann's ages together total 44 years. Mary is twice as old as Ann was when Mary was half as old as Ann will be when Ann is three times as old as Mary was when Mary was three times as old as Ann. How old is Mary? (We're tired of guessing. You guess awhile!)

* * * * *

Mary Alice Hite: "Have you ever seen a night club?"

Merle Meade: "That thing a policeman carries around at night?"

* * * * *

Miss Marks: "We are going to give the bride a shower."

Miss Mims: "Count me in. I'll bring the soap."

* * * * *

Becky Lawson: "My mother never thrashed me in all her life."

Gin Lambdin (at the table): "Too bad, just another wreck due to a misplaced switch."

B. C. G. Originality

DEFINITIONS (With our most sincere apologies to the ENGLISH DEPT.)

POETRY is when every line begins with a capital letter.

GENDER shows whether a man is masculine or feminine or neuter.

A CONJUNCTION is a place where two railway lines meet.

A METAPHOR is a suppressed simile. P. S.—It is also a thing you shout through.

“NO” is the adverb of negotiation.

The future of “I GIVE” is “YOU TAKE.”

A PASSIVE VERB is when the subject is the sufferer. Ex. “I am loved.”

The plural of “FORGET-ME-NOT” is “FORGET-US-NOT.”

MASCULINE—Man.

FEMININE—Woman.

NEUTER—Corpse.

An EPITAPH is a short sarcastic poem.

DEFINITIONS

1. A blizzard is the inside of a fowl.
2. Period costumes are dresses all covered with dots.
3. An epistle is the wife of an apostle.
4. A mayor is a he horse.
5. A vacuum is an empty space where the Pope lives.
6. A magnet is a thing you find in a bad apple.
7. An axis is an imaginary line on which the earth is supposed to take a daily routine.
8. When you breathe, you inspire. When you don't breathe, you expire.
9. Typhoid fever may be prevented by fascination.
10. A mountain range is a cooking stove used at high altitude.
11. The Prince of Wales is a big fish.
12. An octopus is a bar of soap.
13. Light is measured by volts and empires.
14. A glacier is a block of frozen ice floating down a river which is very dangerous to ships. It is sometimes a huge piece of ice.
15. When a star twinkles it is said to be a planet and when it does not it is said to be a lost world.

study hall thoughts

*the moon doth beam
the stars doth shine
in study hall
we all doth pine*

*the notes sail gleefully 'round they hop from desk to desk till the teacher doth spy them
as they fly and maketh them come to rest*

*letter we write and duck out of sight
when teacher's wandering gaze shouldst come to rest on our beloved desk
and scare us into a daze*

*time doth creep but oh so slow
when will come
the time to go*

*the snow doth fall
so gently down
oh why did i
"just ride to town"*

then suddenly there is a sound it chimes out clear and shrill what thing is this that dares disturb the peace (?) and quiet (??) and still (???)

*teacher she reareth
everyone stareth then laugheth we one and all an alarm clock is there right under her chair
she taketh it to the hall*

THE IMPRINT of PRIDE

Bids for patronage on a basis of price alone get small response from people who know the true worth of good quality in PRINTING. They prefer to pay the slight difference in the cost of good printing over mediocre printing because of the vastly superior RESULTS obtained—and RESULTS, of course, are paramount.

BELL MADE ANNUALS are produced by skilled craftsmen to meet the most exacting requirements. But, measured by the standards of real service and satisfaction, they are, after all, the least expensive.
